Launching RETAIN ME Toolkits on Remote Working Solutions for the Employer and the Employee

We are going through a post-covid-19 era and remote working is still the case in several working contexts. Remote working solutions remains a trendy topic, and a priority, and this is why RETAIN ME consortium is happy to announce that the resources developed on this topic are ready to use and disseminate!

For several months now, the project partners, in an attempt to support older and vulnerable employees to live and thrive in our digitally enhanced, remote working reality, have been fully engaged in developing two dynamic and innovative toolkits, for two different key target groups, the employer and the employee. Below you may find more information:

- RETAIN-ME Employer's Toolkit: This toolkit consists of job readiness, job retention and job seeking resources as well as the step-by-step guides for vulnerable workers. The content is suitably comprehensive and includes in-depth and practical information on the topic of remote working for employers. The toolkit will act as a "Go-to Guide" for managers wishing to adapt their business to fit within the scope of the remote working revolution.
- RETAIN-ME Vulnerable Employee Toolkit: This toolkit comprises 18 Remote Career Planning Resources, which are available online in all partner languages. Aiming at developing the remote working literacies of vulnerable employees so that they can manage successful remote careers, the toolkit will provide a complete suite of resources that addresses the issue from a holistic perspective.

Both toolkits, that may be found in English and in all partners' languages (i.e. Swedish, German, Portuguese and Greek), are hosted on RETAIN ME e-Learning Platform: <https://elearning.retain-me.eu/>

Feel free to take a glance and let us spread the news on this attempt to support older and vulnerable workers to embrace the digital transition in European workforces, so that they can continue to make active and meaningful contributions to European economic, civic and social life – all facilitated through embracing digital technologies and platforms.

On this issue

The two key toolkits, one for the employers and one of the employee with remote working solutions and good practices is on this issue, since the project's target group and the wider audience may start using, it as soon as they are enrolled in our e-learning platform: <https://elearning.retain-me.eu/>

Next steps

RETAIN ME partners never take a break! Launching soon the RETAIN ME Community of Practice (CoP)!

They also plan to meet online, and they will also meet in person, in September 2023, for an exciting event in Sweden and their final translational meeting.
